

Iowa weather

Cloudy with a chance of showers tonight with lows 47 to 52. Partly cloudy and turning cooler Wednesday with a chance of showers and highs 68 to 75. Precipitation chances 30 per cent. High temperature Monday 61, low during night 48. Sunrise Wednesday 7:11, sunset 4:31.

Briefly speaking...

Proxmire's new book

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire says he was threatened with assassination during the debate on the controversial $250 million Lockheed loan guarantee and changed the route of his morning jog to work to avoid "an easy sniper pick-off."

Proxmire, the Senate's most famous jogger, made the disclosure in a new book in which he criticizes alleged military and domestic federal waste and calls for an end to most secret hearings in Congress and the executive branch.

Shriver to be in Iowa

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Sargent Shriver, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, is scheduled to appear at an airport rally here Friday, according to Robert Fulton, state chairman of McGovern for President organization in Iowa. Shriver will arrive at 5:30 p.m. from appearances in Cleveland, Ohio. Following the public rally, there will be a press conference before Shriver's departure for Sioux Falls and Aberdeen, S.D.

Trial end is near FORT DODGE, Iowa (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge William Hanson says closing arguments in the $445 million lawsuit by a California firm against Winebago Industries of Forest City won't take place until next Monday.

Closing arguments in the case brought by Life-Time Industries of California were originally slated for Monday.

Life-Time contends that Winebago took the California firm's trade secret of a low-cost motor home. Life-Time alleged in testimony that has lasted six months that the secret was lost through a contract with Winebago to manufacture the product.

Manson transferred

FOLSOM, Calif. (AP) — Convicted mass murderer Charles Manson has been transferred to Folsom Prison from San Quentin as part of the dispersal of Death Row prisoners in California.

Manson has been assigned to Folsom's adjustment center for evaluation before being placed in the prison proper, said John Ahern, the duty officer.

"We don't know how the inmate body is going to accept him, so we have to be cautious — and we are," Ahern said.

Smoking forbidden

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP) — Don't smoke if you're visiting a patient at Jennie Edmondson Hospital here. It's forbidden.

The hospital said Monday only patients will be allowed to smoke in their rooms, and then only as determined by the patient's physical and mental condition and orders of his doctor.

Lee Horeis, personnel director, said that while the new policy "might create a light inconvenience for the visitor, the safety and comfort of patients is our prime consideration."

Not present for rally

TAIPEI (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek was not present today for Nationalist China's 61st National Day rally, the first time he has failed to show up since his government came to Taiwan in 1949.

There were reports last month that the 84-year-old leader was ill. Sources close to the president said his physician have ordered him to shun outdoor activities to avoid causing any physical complications.

Nationalist leaders, however, have said he is well.

What's inside

Editorials	4
Women's news	6-7
Sports	8-9
Daily report	10
Obituaries	10
Comics	12
Classified	14-15

Plan clinic and adult study

5% of Muscatine children have high levels of fats in blood

Five per cent of the Muscatine school children who have been examined in a University of Iowa medical student have been found to have high levels of blood fats (cholesterol).

Two and one-half per cent have high blood pressure, and 12 per cent are considered to be "obese."

Dr. Ronald M. Lauer, professor of pediatrics at the University of Iowa, told the Muscatine Community school district board of education. Monday night that 4,500 youngsters have been tested in grades 1 through 12 — about 70 per cent of the school population.

The study has been going on here for two years and is expected to continue for another four years, Dr. Lauer said.

Primary objective of the study is to identify children who might be prone to develop heart attacks, stroke, high blood pressure, obesity, and diabetes in adult life.

If the children at high risk for these disorders can be identified, treatment can be undertaken in childhood that might prevent early onset of the disorders of adult life.

Dr. Lauer said that in the case of children with high cholesterol, the entire families had been referred to Iowa City for examination.

He said the university is seeking space now to open a "storefront" clinic in Muscatine where families may be referred for the follow-up examinations. "We believe a significant number of people may be identified who can be aided through early detection of risk from heart attack."

Dr. Lauer also said Muscatine has been selected as the site for a Lipid (fat or fatlike substances) clinic survey to be headed by Dr. William E. Connor, director of the U of I Clinical Research Center.

Starting sometime this year, this will involve a study of the coronary risk factors of the entire community.

"These two programs will provide a unique service to the community — one which will be the envy of many in the nation," he said.

All examinations include (Please turn to page 2)

Tuesday's
MUSCATINE

JOURNAL

 Established 1840

October 10, 1972

No. 239

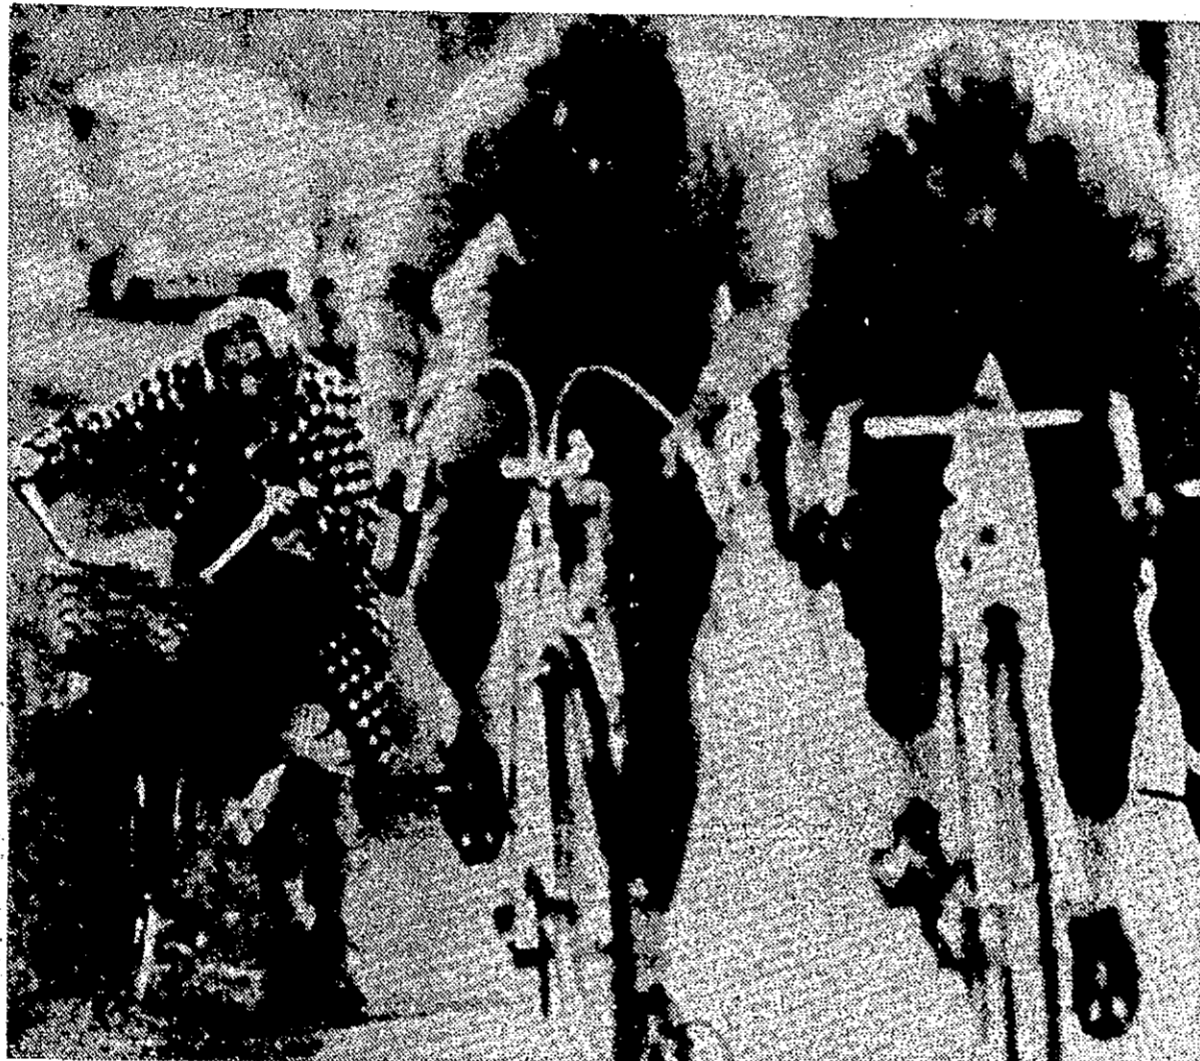

Zip Code 52761 Muscatine, Iowa

16 Pages

Price 10c

In behalf of Nixon re-election

Political sabotage is alleged

(AP Photofax)

No hurry at all

Pumping furiously, participants in the first Sullivan County Bicycle Marathon pedal up a hill Monday on their way to the finish line at Monticello Raceway. At the left an area elderly resident walks her bike, loaded with groceries, up the grade. Richard Modafferi of Vestal, N. Y., won the race, completing the 28-mile, 385-yard course in one hour and 22 minutes.

Peace talks in third day

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger went into an unprecedented third day of talks with the North Vietnamese in Paris today, then took time out to call on the French foreign minister, Maurice Schumann.

The presidential adviser on national security affairs went to the foreign minister with Arthur K. Watson, the U.S. ambassador to France.

Reports in Paris said Kissinger is believed to have discussed Vietnam with Schumann.

Kissinger conferred with the North Vietnamese envoys to the Paris peace talks Sunday and Monday and decided to stay over for a third day to continue the meetings.

"Apparently they have something to talk about," White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Monday in announcing extension of the talks.

He added that the United States and North Vietnam have agreed not to discuss the substance of negotiations.

But diplomatic observers read the extension as evidence that, if nothing else, Kissinger, Le Duc Tho and Xuan Thuy have stepped up the pace of negotiations.

In Saigon, meanwhile, South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, whose future has become a pivotal part of the negotiations and the broader peace talks in Paris, met for 45 minutes with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker.

Again, U.S. officials would not discuss the substance of the talks.

A flurry of reports in recent days that peace might be near has been dismissed by the White House and the North Vietnamese as speculation.

Kissinger is expected to return to Washington tonight, at about the same time that Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern goes on television to outline his plan for ending the war.

The extended Kissinger trip to Paris—his 19th over a three-year period—and Bunker's session with Thieu raised still more speculation.

Preliminary designs shown on proposed new high school

Preliminary designs for a proposed new Muscatine high school with a total tentative price tag of about $5.8 million were viewed Monday night by the school board.

Four representatives of the architectural-engineering firm of Louis Kingscott and Associates, Davenport, were present to go over the proposed design with the board.

Dr. Russell Ward, superintendent, said the building program was being designed to stay within the district's present 10-mill limit for the schoolhouse fund.

Following the board's regular meeting, an executive session was held to discuss possible sites for a new school. After a site is optioned and designs completed the building will be submitted to the voters of the school district for approval.

Preliminary plans are for a building of 200,000 square feet with four principal areas: fine arts, academic and practical arts, cafeteria-commons, and physical education.

Construction costs utilizing a systems approach are estimated at $4.4 million. Other estimates for site development, fixed equipment, contingencies, architect's fees, and movable equipment would push the total to $5.8 million.

Brooks Godfrey, one of the representatives of the Kingscott firm, said "fast track" scheduling and the systems approach to building could cut eight to 10 months off the total time required to plan and build the school.

and had no comment.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post says the FBI has established that the Watergate bugging incident developed from a campaign of political spying and sabotage on behalf of President Nixon's re-election.

And, the newspaper said in today's editions, the "massive" campaign was directed by White House officials and the Committee for the Re-Election of the President.

The newspaper reported that White House aide Ken W. Clawson has acknowledged fabricating a letter that damaged the presidential campaign of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie—a statement that Clawson now denies.

The newspaper quotes law-enforcement sources as saying the Clawson letter is the best example of a Republican strategy of sabotage directed at Democratic presidential contenders as early as 1971, before the primary campaigns began.

The Post said FBI agents have established that the break-in and alleged bugging of Democratic national headquarters also stemmed from the same sabotage campaign directed by officials of the White House and the Committee for the Re-election of the President.

Another example, the Post said, was alleged attempts by Donald Herbert Segretti to recruit GOP undercover agents to disrupt Democratic activities.

The Post said Segretti, a former Treasury Department lawyer who now maintains offices in Marina Del Rey, Calif., has been identified in FBI reports as an operative of the Nixon campaign.

A spokesman for the Nixon committee, DeVan L. Shumway, said, "The article in the Post is a piece of fiction."

Nixon, contacted today, said he hadn't seen the Post story

The Post quoted investigators as saying the sabotage campaign included: "Following members of Democratic candidates' families; forging letters and distributing them under the candidates' letterheads; leaking false and manufactured items to the press; throwing campaign schedules into disarray; seizing confidential campaign files, and investigating the lives of dozens of Democratic campaign workers."

Clawson, deputy director of White House communications, could not be reached for comment Monday night. A newsman who telephoned his home was told via the White House switchboard that he had retired for the night and that his wife did not wish to awaken him.

The document Clawson allegedly wrote was a letter to the editor of the Manchester (N.H.) Union Leader. It accused the Maine senator of condoning a racial slur against Americans of French-Canadian descent by referring to them as "Canucks."

The letter and editorial attacks on Muskie by the Union Leader's publisher, William Loeb, prompted Muskie to make the now-famous tearful speech denouncing the newspaper and Loeb in front of the newspaper office.

Then the front-runner for the Democratic nomination, Muskie subsequently began to slip in the public-opinion polls and fared worse than expected in the New Hampshire primary in March.

The Post said information in the files of the FBI and Justice Department show that Republicans carried out a massive campaign of spying and sabotage during the primaries to throw their opponents into such disarray they could not mount a viable campaign against Nixon.

No efforts are being made to drive enemy from hamlets

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces held on to a string of hamlets 14 to 22 miles north of Saigon today, and the South Vietnamese command acknowledged that its troops were making no effort to drive them out.

In the air war, U.S. fighter-bombers hit North Vietnam with more than 300 strikes Monday for the fifth successive day. The U.S. Command said more than 300 strikes were flown.

The targets included the MIG base at Yen Bai, 80 miles northwest of Hanoi, where Air Force pilots reported several explosions, and the Thai Binh army barracks 37 miles southwest of Haiphong, where Navy pilots reported destroying 16 buildings.

Nearly 100 U.S. B52s attacked targets around the North Vietnamese port of Dong Hoi, 45 miles north of the demilitarized zone, and around the South Vietnamese cities of Saigon, Kontum, Quang Ngai, Da Nang, Hue and Quang Tri.

The U.S. Command said their targets were supply caches, troop positions and staging areas.

Associated Press correspondent Holger Jensen reported from the front north of Saigon that in five days Communist forces have occupied at least seven hamlets and one village along an eight-mile stretch of Highway 13.

(AP Photofax)

Solo picket

A lone anti-war picket who identified himself as Kenneth R. Fox, 36, of Charlotte, N. C., appeared in front of the home of former President Harry S. Truman, as Fox walked back and forth his wife handed leaflets to passersby. Secret Service agents questioned the man; briefly, then permitted him to continue picketing.